

Akira Satoh

(Faculty of Science, Biology, Okayama University)

1997–2001: B.Sc. in Biology, Faculty of Science, Tohoku University

2001–2006: Ph.D. program, Graduate School of Life Sciences, Tohoku University

(Ph.D. in Life Sciences, Tohoku University)

2006–2007: Postdoctoral Fellow, Gardiner/Bryant Laboratory, University of California, Irvine

2007–2008: JSPS Postdoctoral Fellow for Research Abroad, University of California, Irvine

2009–2011: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Research Core for Interdisciplinary Sciences, Okayama University

2010–2014: Concurrent Researcher, JST PRESTO, “iPS Cells and Life Science”

2011–2013: Tenure-Track Associate Professor, Research Core for Interdisciplinary Sciences, Okayama University

2013–2024: Associate Professor, Research Core for Interdisciplinary Sciences, Okayama University

2024–present: Professor, Graduate School of Environmental, Life, Natural Science and Technology, Okayama University